Privacy notice

By entering the APS Data Awards (the Awards), you agree to your personal information being collected to enable your participation in the Awards. Personal information is collected to assess eligibility for an Award, and to undertake statistical analysis in relation to the Awards program. A shortlisting panel will review all entries (with personal information redacted) and select up to three finalists in each category. Personal information of finalists will be published to the Awards website and provided to the Judging panel to select winners (refer Publicity Notice below).

The Awards are administered by the Data Awards Team, which comprises Australian Bureau of Statistics' staff who are directing the Awards processes. The ABS has obligations under the Privacy Act 1988 and will only use and disclose information collected from you for the purpose of administering the Awards. All nomination forms will be stored within the ABS IT system, and recorded in the ABS Personal Information Holdings Register, in line with the ABS Privacy Management Plan. The Data Awards team will delete your personal information following the conclusion of the Awards processes. Additional information about how the ABS will manage personal information is available in the ABS Privacy Policy for Managing and Operating Our Business.

You consent to your personal information being accessed by the Data Awards Team. Where the nomination is on behalf of another person or persons, the information above is collected about that person or persons. If this information is not provided, the application will not be assessed. Please notify the Awards Team by email for any contact changes on this form. You agree that if you do not provide your personal information, or if you provide false or misleading information, you may not be eligible for an APS Data Award.

This privacy Notice may be reviewed and updated from time to time. Changes to the privacy Notice will be updated on the APS Data Awards website. For further information on this Privacy Notice, or to advise changes in contact details, please contact the Data awards team at data.profession@abs.gov.au

Publicity notice

The ABS will publish finalists' personal information (including names and employing APS agencies but excluding contact details) to the Awards website. Pitch sessions will be recorded and a highlights video will be played at the Awards night, and posted to other communication channels. The ABS may also publish finalists' information and photographs taken at the Awards night in media releases, presentations, conference programs, social media sites and the Data Profession Members' Community Platform. Finalists' personal information and photographs posted to the Awards website will be publicly visible, including to overseas entities. The ABS will not use or disclose personal information for any other purpose unless permitted by the Privacy Act 1988.

You also consent to the ABS publishing your nomination material in any communication channels the ABS deems appropriate for the purposes of publicising the APS Data Awards. You acknowledge that neither you nor your team are entitled to any remuneration or any other payment in respect of the use of your nomination material by the ABS.

The following material will be provided to the shortlisting panel which will check eligibility and select finalists in each category.

Please do not include personal identifiers or other information which would allow the shortlisting team to identify individuals within your project team.
